A MESSAGE FROM WANDERING WARRIORS

To our Wandering Warriors community,
Thank you for standing with us.

Whether you have donated, attended an event, supported Pollie Pedal, followed Happy Wanderer, joined us at the Memorial Warrior Cup, watched Bravery & Betrayal, opened a door, shared our work or quietly encouraged us from afar, your support matters.

Many Australians came closer to the Special Operations community this year through Bravery & Betrayal: The True Story of the S.A.S. in Afghanistan, which aired nationally on Channel 7 over the ANZAC Day weekend. For many, it was a confronting reminder that the cost of service does not always end when the uniform comes off.

Wandering Warriors exists to support what comes next.

We are a registered Australian charity dedicated to supporting veterans of Australia's Special Operations Command and their families as they transition from military to civilian life.

Through The Krait Foundation, education pathways, mentoring and long-term community connection, we help veterans translate the skills built through service - leadership, discipline, judgement, resilience and adaptability - into meaningful civilian futures.

This End of Financial Year, I invite you to make a tax-deductible donation to Wandering Warriors before 30 June.

Your gift will help us continue delivering the programs, pathways and trusted support that Special Operations veterans and their families need at one of the most significant transition points in their lives.

For many veterans, leaving service is not simply a career change. It can mean stepping away from identity, structure, team, purpose and a way of life that has shaped them for years. Families often walk beside them through that uncertainty, helping carry the weight of change while rebuilding what comes next.

With each new cohort, we are reminded that transition support is not a nice-to-have. For many veterans and families, it is the difference between facing the next chapter alone and stepping into it with structure, confidence and community.

Your support helps create that bridge.
It helps turn gratitude into action.

WHAT YOUR SUPPORT MAKES POSSIBLE

Wandering Warriors was established in 2013 by SAS veterans in Queensland, with a commitment to supporting veteran causes through practical action, community connection and impactful fundraising.

In its early years, Wandering Warriors helped lead major initiatives including the 1600 km Brisbane to Birdsville Megawalk and the 1200 km Brisbane to Canberra Mega Challenge, collectively raising more than $200,000 for veteran-supporting organisations.

Since then, Wandering Warriors has grown into a national charity with a clear mission: to support veterans of Australia's Special Operations Command and their families through transition, education, mentoring and long-term connection. At its heart, Wandering Warriors remains a lean, largely volunteer-driven national community, built by people who care - Australian mums and dads, military families, former serving members, volunteers, corporate supporters, event participants, donors and friends.

People who are grateful for those who have served, and want that gratitude to mean something practical.

THE KRAIT FOUNDATION

The Krait Foundation is a Wandering Warriors initiative built specifically to support Special Operations veterans as they navigate the move from military to civilian life.

Named in honour of the MV Krait, which sailed through uncharted waters in September 1943 to deliver one of the most audacious and successful results of the Second World War, The Krait Foundation recognises that transition can feel like its own version of uncharted waters. For those leaving Australia's Special Operations community, transition is not about starting from scratch.

It is about recognising what has already been built - mindset, leadership, adaptability, discipline, judgement and resilience - and helping each person apply those strengths in new environments with direction and confidence.

The Krait Foundation provides structured preparation, intensive program experience and post-program support. Participants are exposed to career pathways, professional networks, education opportunities, mentoring, entrepreneurship and personal development.

This is not theory. It is practical, high-trust support built around real conversations, real opportunities and real next steps.

ONE VETERAN ONE NEXT STEP A LIFE CHANGED

One of the earliest participants in The Krait Foundation came into the program facing the difficult question many veterans know well:

What comes next?
Through Wandering Warriors, he found more than career transition support. He found the confidence, direction and encouragement to pursue further education.

He later applied for, and was successfully accepted into, an MBA program.

He remains connected to the Wandering Warriors community today.

In his own words, the experience "completely changed my life."

That is what your donation can help make possible. Not a one-off moment. Not a short-term gesture. A genuine pathway into the next stage of life.

EDUCATION, MENTORING AND CONNECTION

For many veterans, education is a powerful bridge between service and civilian opportunity.

Wandering Warriors supports veterans through scholarships, technical and vocational training, executive education, tertiary study and tailored learning opportunities that help open new career pathways.

Education gives veterans the language, confidence and qualifications to translate years of service into future leadership, employment and enterprise.

Mentoring and alumni connection are equally important.

Transition does not end when a course finishes or a job begins. Through ongoing engagement and an expanding national network, Wandering Warriors helps veterans and families remain connected to a trusted community that understands the road they are walking.

Because no one should have to work out life after service alone.

THE WORK IS HAPPENING NOW

Wandering Warriors is an active national community creating opportunities, building relationships and standing beside veterans and families in practical ways. Here are recent moments of impact.

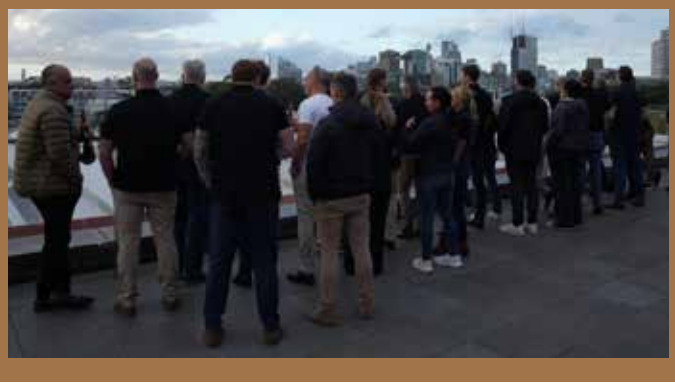
THE KRAIT FOUNDATION

May cohort, Sydney 11-15 May 2026
The latest Krait Foundation cohort completed its Sydney program.

Over the week, participants took part in a structured career readiness and transition experience designed to help them explore new pathways, strengthen confidence and connect with people who can help open doors.

The final evening brought the cohort together with leaders from many different industries, giving participants the opportunity to build networks, share their experience and be met with genuine support.

For many veterans, this kind of exposure matters. It helps translate military experience into civilian opportunity and allows industry leaders to see the capability, leadership and judgement these veterans bring.



BRAVERY AND BETRAYAL

A NATIONAL CONVERSATION

Many people in our wider community connected with Wandering Warriors through Bravery & Betrayal: The True Story of the S.A.S. in Afghanistan.

The documentary shared powerful first-hand accounts from members of the Special Air Service Regiment, political leaders, military personnel and families affected by Australia's involvement in the War on Terror.

For those who watched, it was a reminder that service has a cost, and that the impact of service can continue long after deployment ends. Wandering Warriors supports the next part of that story - the part after service, where education, mentoring, community and practical transition support can help rebuild purpose and direction.

MEMORIAL WARRIOR CUP WELCOMES THE PILGRIMS

In January 2026, the Wandering Warriors Memorial Warrior Cup was held in Sydney across two memorable days.

This year marked a very special first for the Cup, with the United Kingdom Special Forces team, The Pilgrims, joining the competition.

The event brought together Teams East and West, The Pilgrims, families, supporters and the wider Wandering Warriors community for two days of cricket, connection and shared purpose.

The Memorial Warrior Cup is more than a sporting event. It honours service, strengthens bonds and creates a place where veterans, families and supporters can come together in the spirit of camaraderie.

POLLIE PEDAL

RIDING WITH PURPOSE

Since its beginning in 1998, Pollie Pedal has become a proud tradition within Australia's cycling and community landscape.

Founded by The Honourable Tony Abbott AC and led by The Honourable Angus Taylor MP, Pollie Pedal brings together Members of Parliament, veterans, community leaders and everyday Australians to ride with purpose.

Wandering Warriors is honoured to be entering its fourth consecutive year with Pollie Pedal.
Funds raised through Pollie Pedal support The Krait Foundation, helping Special Operations veterans and their families access career transition support, education pathways, professional development and ongoing connection.

Every kilometre travelled helps create real and lasting impact.

HAPPY WANDERER

WHERE CHALLENGE MEETS PURPOSE

Happy Wanderer began with a bold idea: bring together a crew from across the country, many with limited sailing experience, and prepare them to compete in one of the world's toughest offshore races, the Rolex Sydney Hobart Yacht Race.

What followed became far more than a campaign.

It became a shared experience grounded in teamwork, purpose and connection, where people came together to take on something bigger than themselves.

Today, that same spirit continues with a clear focus: supporting veterans and their families through Wandering Warriors and The Krait Foundation.

From preparation through to race day, the crew of Happy Wanderer reflects what Wandering Warriors stands for: stepping forward, backing each other and contributing to a community that continues long after the challenge is over.

WANDERING WARRIORS IN THE COMMUNITY

Wandering Warriors was proud to be represented at the recent ANZAC assembly at Mt Maria College, Mitchelton, Queensland.

Michael Korff, a former Special Air Service Regiment operator, delivered a powerful and engaging address to the school community, sharing what ANZAC Day means in today's context and offering insight into the reality of modern service.

The response from the College community was overwhelmingly positive, with staff and students reflecting on the importance of recognising and supporting today's veterans.

Moments like this help ensure the stories, service and sacrifice of modern veterans are understood by the next generation.

BUILT BY PEOPLE WHO CARE

Wandering Warriors has always been strengthened by Australians who choose to stand beside our veterans.

Mums and dads. Military families. Former serving members. Volunteers. Corporate supporters. Event participants. Donors. Friends. People who simply want to say “thank you for your service” in a practical and meaningful way.

To every person who has donated, ridden, sailed, attended, introduced, volunteered, opened a door, shared our work or supported us from afar - thank you.

Your generosity helps a lean, largely volunteer-driven organisation turn goodwill into real-world support for veterans and families.

Your support helps turn gratitude into action.

A FINAL WORD FROM QUENTIN

To our supporters,

As we approach 30 June, I ask you to consider making a tax-deductible donation to Wandering Warriors.

Your gift will help us continue supporting Special Operations veterans and their families as they navigate life beyond service. It will help fund the practical work of transition, education, mentoring, connection and opportunity.

For those who have served in some of the most demanding environments imaginable, the next chapter should not be faced alone. With your support, it does not have to be.

Thank you for standing with those who have served,

Quentin Masson
